Exchange Program Terms and Academic Calendar

Review the International Exchange Program Calendar (under Important Dates).

Fall Semester: August - December
Academic Year: August - May
Spring Semester: January - May
Calendar Year: January - May and August - December; summer break May - August

Students must attend mandatory orientation, usually held during the week prior to the start of classes. Final arrival dates and orientation information will be provided in official acceptance materials; do not purchase airfare until arrival dates have been confirmed.

Academics

More information about academics and courses is available here.

Students should use the most recent semester Class Search to search course offerings, as the Course Catalog Search will include many courses that are not currently scheduled.

International exchange students are eligible to enroll in most classes for which they meet applicable prerequisites, as long as the course has not filled to capacity. Please note that students are not guaranteed to receive all of their preferred classes, even if they meet prerequisites.

International exchange students must enroll full-time by the ASU course registration deadline and throughout the entire semester, as follows:

- Undergraduate students: 12-18 credits per semester (undergraduate courses only)
- Graduate students: 9-15 credits per semester (min. 9 credits with graduate classes or combination of undergraduate/graduate courses)

Last updated: October 2022
Online courses: ASU offers several iCourses that are 100% online; international exchange students may take iCourses, but must be enrolled in at least 9 credits of in-person coursework (undergraduate) or 6 credits of in-person coursework (graduate).

Internet - Hybrid courses: ASU offers several courses that have both an in-person and online component. International exchange students are not restricted from taking hybrid classes.

Course Restrictions

- W.P. Carey School of Business (undergraduate programs): seats are limited depending on the specific academic unit or course; one example is Supply Chain Management (SCM) which has extremely limited spaces for exchange students.
- W.P. Carey School of Business (MBA): prior approval required during exchange program nomination phase (limited course offerings)
- Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts: students studying a similar major at their home university will be required to submit a portfolio of work or audition to gain access to courses
- Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering: Engineering students cannot take any engineering capstone courses at ASU. In addition, some schools in engineering have further enrollment restrictions for engineering students:
  - Schools of Computing and Augmented Intelligence: Students can take any lower division courses they wish. For upper division courses, they need instructor approval to receive access to the course.
  - Sustainable Engineering and the Built Environment: If there are a large number of open seats, students will be allowed to enroll in courses for which they meet prerequisites. If there are very few seats available, advisors will wait until 1-2 weeks before the start of the semester before giving permission for exchange students to enroll.
  - Engineering of Matter, Transport, and Energy: After all registration has opened, students may be given overrides into courses that still have a lot of seats open, depending on the course demand for ASU majors. For these courses, advisers will wait until the FIRST WEEK of the semester before giving permission for exchange students to enroll.
- Walter Cronkite School of Journalism & Mass Comm: JMC courses are not available; MCO courses are limited. Alternative courses in other colleges may be found under the following prefixes: COM & ENG
- College of Health Solutions: seats are limited depending on the specific academic unit or course
- Edson College of Nursing and Health Innovation: most courses are restricted
- Sandra Day O’Connor College of Law: graduate-level courses are only available to graduate-level law students; undergraduate courses are available to all other exchange students
- Mary Lou Fulton Teacher’s College: most courses are restricted

ASU Syllabi

Students can use this resource to search for/request ASU syllabi.

Official Grade Reports

International exchange students are not provided transcripts from ASU; instead, all courses, credits, and grades received at ASU are reported on the official ASU grade report. Grade reports are sent to the international exchange student’s home institution within two months after the end of the semester by email and/or mail. Grade reports are not issued for students with incomplete grades or outstanding charges on their ASU student account.

Mandatory Health Insurance

International exchange students are automatically enrolled in the ASU Student Health Insurance plan, which is mandatory for ALL international students. It is not possible to waive this requirement. The cost of the insurance (approximately
More information can be found here (under Health & Wellness >> Mandatory Health Insurance).

$1600-$2000 USD per semester will be charged to the student’s ASU account. Read more about what is covered under this insurance at the Arizona State University student health insurance plan website.

Housing

More information about housing options can be found here.

Students have 3 housing options:
On-Campus:
ASU Residence Halls: On-campus housing is EXTREMELY limited, and is assigned on a first-come, first-served basis! Students should apply for on-campus housing as soon as they have the opportunity, but housing may fill before they have the chance to apply.

Off-Campus:
Apartments: Prices are comparable to living on-campus, and apartments near campus are filled with ASU students.

Homestays: Homestays are not organized by ASU, but can be organized through a Homestay company in the area.

Costs and Financial Resources

More information can be found here.

International exchange students do not pay ASU tuition, but must pay student initiated fees that are mandatory for ASU students. Approximately $350-450 per semester. More information on fees can be found here.

Students should also budget for additional costs such as mandatory health insurance, special course fees, books and supplies, housing, meals, local transportation, and personal expenses.

Visa and Immigration Information

More information can be found here.

International exchange students studying in the U.S. must obtain the J-1 Exchange Visitor’s visa. The ASU Global Education Office will send by post mail the DS-2019 form necessary for applying for the J-1 visa in the official acceptance packet.

Student Employment

More information can be found here (under Student Employment).

Exchange students are allowed to work on-campus in hourly jobs within the dates of their program. Employment may total no more than 20 hours per week during the academic semesters and no more than 40 hours during official school breaks.

Students are not able to participate in internships outside of ASU or outside the official program dates.
