Student International Travel Registration Policy

Purpose and Summary

Arizona State University ("ASU") supports and encourages global engagement, and recognizes the importance of working collaboratively across cultural, geographic and disciplinary borders to create solutions to pressing global, regional and local challenges. To this end, ASU has established a broad global presence through partnerships and programs involving international study, internships, research, and service-learning.

In order to promote the health and safety of ASU travelers, all international travel by/with students that is sponsored by or affiliated with ASU or related to an ASU activity/program, whether credit bearing or not ("University-Related Travel"), must be registered in accordance with this policy. An international experience is “sponsored by or affiliated with ASU” if an ASU unit, student organization, faculty or staff member is involved in creating, funding, or approving the experience, or coordinating the applications and selection of participants.

Registration of international travel promotes:

• Review of international travel plans to help identify and mitigate risks related to health, safety and security;
• Provision of information, resources, and guidance to ASU travelers regarding their health, safety and security while traveling abroad;
• Facilitation of immediate access to data on the location of ASU travelers and the ability to communicate rapidly with them to verify well-being and to provide instructions or guidance if needed.

Scope

This policy applies to all ASU students (and faculty/staff members accompanying ASU students) participating in University-Related Travel outside of the United States and its territories. University-Related Travel includes, but is not limited to the following activities:

• Research, experiential learning (e.g., international internships, co-ops, volunteering, service-learning), independent study done abroad, or any other international travel that is part of an ASU class or for which the student receives ASU resident credit;
• International travel sponsored by or affiliated with ASU or an ASU student organization (this applies to both affiliated and independent student organizations registered with EOSS);
• Any other international travel by students for the purposes of officially representing ASU, such as participation in an academic or professional conference.

Students traveling abroad on programs administered by the ASU Study Abroad Office (SAO) are registered in a separate system, as are the ASU faculty/staff members leading and facilitating those study abroad programs.

This policy excludes travel undertaken for personal reasons (e.g., leisure or vacation travel or travel for personal business) as well as travel that has no connection to ASU. ASU does not recognize any obligation to support such international travel by staff, students or faculty.
International Travel Registration Policy

Compliance with this policy is required in order to:

- Be covered by applicable insurance programs during international travel;
- Receive assistance from ASU in the event of an emergency during your international travel;
- Gain access to mobile-ready international travel intelligence before and during your international travel, including the ability to receive pushed alert notifications.

Individual Student Travel

Travel Registration
ASU students participating in University-Related Travel abroad must register their travel in the ASU International Travel Registration System. Registration will include a request for basic travel details (e.g., cities/countries and dates, emergency contacts, etc.) and an electronic signature document. Information provided by students within their travel registration may be used in the event of an emergency to locate travelers and communicate emergency information.

Travel Risk Management Services
The SAO will review each student’s plans to identify known risks unique to the destination(s) and/or planned activities. The SAO will provide pre-departure information and resources to help travelers mitigate their exposure to such risks, and will register travelers in an international medical/evacuation/repatriation insurance program.

Group Travel

Advanced Planning
ASU faculty, staff or students leading, organizing or otherwise involved with students participating in University-Related Travel must contact the SAO as early as possible before the travel/program begins. ASU departments/programs funding projects that involve international travel by students are responsible for reporting this information to the SAO so that students can complete travel registration with the SAO prior to departure.

Travel Registration
ASU students participating in University-Related Travel abroad must register their travel in the ASU International Travel Registration System. Registration will include a request for basic travel details (e.g., cities/countries and dates, emergency contacts, etc.) and an electronic signature document. Information provided by students within their travel registration may be used in the event of an emergency to locate travelers and communicate emergency information.

Travel Risk Management Services
The SAO will review the group’s travel plans and discuss with the group leaders best practices and ASU policies to be followed related to arrangements for the health, safety, and security of the ASU travelers. The SAO will provide pre-departure information and resources to help travelers mitigate their exposure to known risks unique to the destination(s) and/or planned activities, and will register travelers in an international medical/evacuation/repatriation insurance program.

Important Considerations

International Travel Service Fee
ASU will charge a fee to travelers who register with the ASU International Travel Registration System, in order to provide the services described in this policy. The current fee structure is available at https://www.asu.edu/travelsafely.
High Risk Destinations
All University-Related Travel to countries and/or areas designated as a “High Risk Destination” requires advance review and approval by the Office of the University Provost or designee. ASU’s Study Abroad Health and Safety Committee (SAHSC) reviews all planned student travel to High Risk Destinations and advises the SAO and the Office of the University Provost concerning whether the proposed travel should be approved.

A country and/or area is designated as a “High Risk Destination” if any of the following conditions apply:

- A current Travel Advisory (Level 3) has been issued by the U.S. Department of State;
- A current Travel Health Warning (Level 3) has been issued by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention;
- A destination has a current iJET/WorldAware Security Assessment rating of 4/5;*
- A destination has a current Concur Security Rating of 4/5;* or
- ASU travel to a country/area has been designated as restricted by the Office of the University Provost, based on recommendation from the SAHSC (see Appendix A).

The following conditions and restrictions apply to High Risk Destinations:

- In addition to all other required travel documents, students registering travel to a High Risk Destination must review supplemental information provided by the SAO and acknowledge the risks related to such travel by digitally signing an Acknowledgment of Safety and Security Risk(s) within the online travel registration system.
- The Provost, the SAHSC, or the SAO may authorize or restrict ASU travel to specific regions within a High Risk Destination.
- No ASU student, faculty or staff will be required to travel to a High Risk Destination.

*iJET/WorldAware and Concur are third party travel intelligence service providers with which ASU has a contractual relationship for risk analysis and other travel risk management services. ASU will not approve student travel to any destination with a 5/5 rating from iJET/WorldAware or Concur.

See Appendix A to this policy for additional details.

In-Country Local Regulations and Laws
All students/faculty/staff engaged in University-Related Travel must comply with all applicable laws and regulations imposed by, or applicable to, the country/area to be visited. Failure to comply with the laws and regulations of a foreign country could result in arrest, imprisonment, and prosecution by foreign governments. ASU may have limited ability to intervene or assist in the event of arrest or imprisonment abroad.

Principal Investigators engaged in research abroad and utilizing students in the conduct of such research must obtain, in advance of such research activity on foreign soil, all special visas, permits, consents, etc. that may be required by local authorities. Principal Investigators are encouraged to contact the local embassy for assistance if any concerns arise.

Travel Restrictions and Export Controls
The ASU Office of Research Integrity and Assurance (ORIA) oversees ASU’s compliance with federal laws and regulations related to export controls and travel restrictions to sanctioned countries. The Executive Vice President of Knowledge Enterprise Development is authorized to prohibit or restrict ASU travel to any country or region that poses an unacceptable risk for purposes of compliance with such laws and regulations.

See RSP 214 for more information.
Appendix A Study Abroad Health and Safety Committee (SAHSC)

1. A Study Abroad Health & Safety Committee (SAHSC), established by the Provost, will perform the following tasks:
   a. Establish a format and required information template for written proposals to travel to High Risk Destinations. Define timelines for submittals and review.
   b. Conduct review and risk assessment of proposals for travel to High Risk Destinations. Provide recommendation to Provost for final decision.
   c. Evaluate emergency conditions that arise abroad from natural disasters, civil unrest or violence, health threats, or other hazardous conditions, and develop action plans as described below.
   d. Work with the Study Abroad Office (SAO) and other academic units to perform risk assessment and evaluation of proposed new international programs.
   e. Monitor global developments that may increase travel risks or otherwise impact ASU programs and travel abroad.
   f. Periodically assess existing policies and procedures concerning international travel and recommend changes as needed.

2. Action Plans for Emergencies or New High Risk Destinations
   a. When a country or region becomes newly designated as a High Risk Destination, or if safety conditions in a country deteriorate or are otherwise compromised due to emergency, natural disaster, health crisis, civil unrest, or other hazardous condition, the SAHSC will evaluate the situation and prepare a recommended action plan for immediate implementation.

   b. The action plan will include at a minimum:
      i. Identification of all ASU travelers registered in the Travel Registration System in the affected region, and initial well-being verification via e-mail, telephone, AlertTraveler mobile app, or text message.
      ii. Decisions regarding continued presence of current ASU travelers in the country or region in question, and instructions for travelers.
      iii. Decisions regarding the operational status of existing ASU programs or activity in the country or region in question.
      iv. Decisions regarding whether to restrict or postpone ASU travel planned for the country or region in question.
      v. Review of emergency assistance and insurance options for travelers, including evacuation assistance if warranted.
      vi. Decisions regarding financial considerations such as reimbursement of program fees.
